DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 11-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As to independent claim 11 of the instant application, applicant discloses “an article”. It is unclear as to what “an article” is. Further, applicant also discloses “the article” in dependent claims 12-19. Examiner requests appropriate correction.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2, 6-13, 17-23 and 27-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Benson (US 5,650,800).

As to independent claim 1, a method comprising, resolving a display (Figs. 3, 5 and 6) into at least two regions (item 102); generating a different sequence of characteristic values in each region (Fig. 5, col. 5, lines 16-25, sensors have unique ID code); and resolving the position of a sensor with respect to said regions (Fig. 5, col. 9, lines 15-26).

As to independent claim 11, an article comprising a medium (memory Fig. 2, item 36) storing instructions that enable a processor (32) based system to resolve a display into at least two regions; and generate a different sequence of characteristic values in each region (Figs. 3, 5 and 6).

As to independent claim 20, a system comprising, a processor (32); a memory (36) coupled to said processor, said memory storing instructions that enable the system to resolve a display into at least two regions and generate a different sequence of characteristic values in each region (col. 5, lines 38-60).

As to dependent claims 2, 13 and 23, limitations of claims 1, 11 and 20, and further comprising, wherein resolving a display into two regions includes resolving a display into at least four regions (Figs. 3, 5 & 6, item 102).

As to dependent claims 6, 17 and 27, limitations of claims 1, 11 and 20, and further comprising, including displaying a series of frames and interspersing, among said frames, additional frames having at least two regions each displaying a sequence of characteristic values (col. 9, lines 15-46). Fig. 5 of Benson shows several different regions with different characteristics displayed.

As to dependent claim 7, limitations of claim 6, and further comprising, including displaying said additional frames in a fashion such that they are substantially undetectable by the user (col. 7, lines 43-49).

Art Unit: 2675

As to dependent claims 8, 18, and 28, limitations of claims 1, 11 and 20, and further comprising, generating a different sequence of characteristic values by displaying a time sequence of frames each including at least two regions, and each of said regions displaying a timed sequence of characteristic values (col. 7, lines 43-67 where Benson periodically broadcasts system status)..

As to dependent claims 9 and 19, limitations of claims 8 and 18, and further comprising, including interspersing frames containing said characteristic values and frames not containing said characteristic values (Fig. 5, the scrolling).

As to dependent claim 10, limitations of claim 1, and further comprising, developing a sequence using fewer characteristic values than the number of regions (Fig. 6).

As to dependent claims 12, 22 and 29, limitations of claims 11 and 20, see claim 1, above.

As to dependent claim 21, limitations of claim 20, and further comprising, including a display coupled to said processor (Fig. 2, item 32, col. 5, lines 39-42).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Benson (US 5,650,800).

Art Unit: 2675

As to dependent claim 30, limitations of claim 29, and further comprising, wherein said sensor is a light sensor that detects a characteristic value in the form of light. Although Benson does not state that the sensors are that of light sensors, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that the sensors could have been light sensors. Benson discloses in col. 2, lines 43-47, "any sensor of the type conventionally used for perimeter or vault alarm systems, any sensor of the type conventionally used for fire alarm systems or combinations thereof is operatively connected to the sensor interface". It is obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that light sensors are used for perimeter or vault alarm systems as they are advantageous as breaking the light beam would "trip" the sensor.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 3-5, 14-16, and 24-26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
